

PRODUCT OVERVIEW

Six Degrees Managed Security Services

New technology is changing the way people work, with businesses more mobile and connected than ever before. Though these always-on workplaces offer countless benefits, they also bring more risks. Rising cyberattacks and the growing burden of new regulations make securing your critical systems and data a key priority.

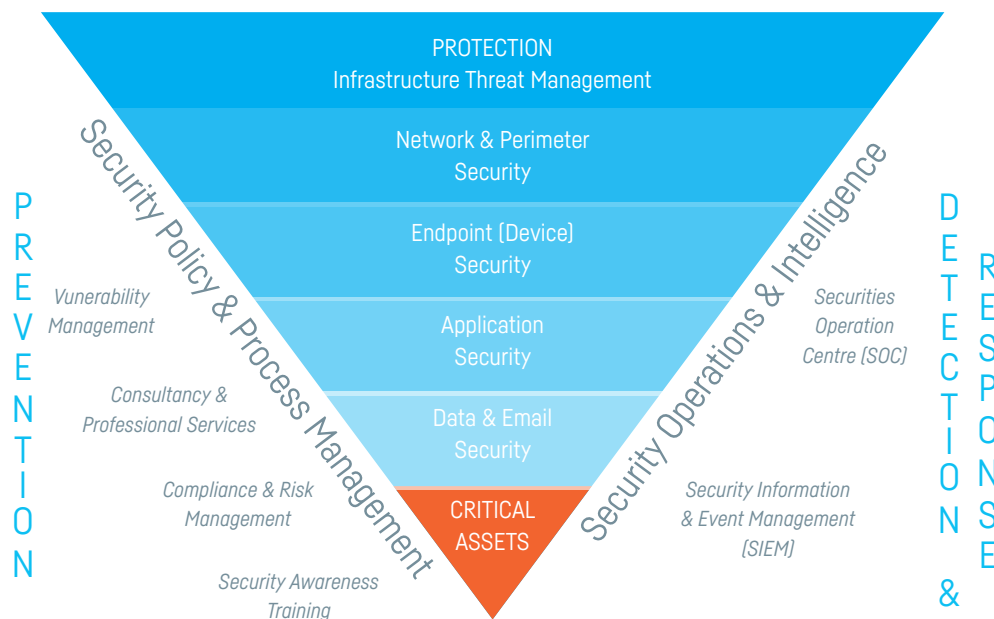

Keeping pace with the shifting security landscape

Today, organisations face an increasingly complex and ever-changing security landscape with an escalating rate of cyberattacks from a professional and organised cybercrime community. The following strategic and operational requirements have become a priority:

- Meeting compliance and regulatory requirements
- Managing constantly evolving external and internal security threats
- Mitigating the risk of data leaks and loss of intellectual property
- Enabling greater levels collaborative, remote and mobile working
- Ensuring business and service continuity

There's no "silver security bullet" to safeguard your organisation. But working with a trusted partner, like Six Degrees, can bring a range of specialist Cybersecurity expertise and experience to bear on these multi-layered security and compliance challenges.

Multi-layered approach to safeguarding your operations

In order to enable organisations to successfully achieve both security and digitisation, Six Degrees looks beyond just implementing point security solutions and, instead, addresses Cybersecurity as a whole. We offer a comprehensive set of professional and managed security services, from consulting and audits through to the provision of complete managed and 'as a service' security solutions. All are built upon a multi-layered security approach providing multiple, redundant safeguards to secure your organisation across the entire cyberattack and compliance continuum.

Our portfolio is comprised of three service areas:

Compliance & IT Risk Management Services - Our expert security and compliance specialists will help you identify areas of risk, then implement a tailored security solution to address these areas while taking into account your unique business, technical and productivity needs.

Vulnerability Management Services - We deliver proactive scanning, testing and remediation of application, database and network vulnerabilities so you can better protect your customer data, financial information, intellectual property and other key data assets.

Threat Management Services - Here we offer a comprehensive set of security centred technologies derived from a select group of market-leading vendor partners. Thus enabling us to deliver bespoke protection solutions tuned to your unique and evolving environment. In addition, we recognise technology alone provides imperfect infrastructure protection. So, we offer an overarching managed threat detection, threat hunting and incident response service within a leading, UK-based Security Operations Centre combining Security Information & Event Management (SIEM) technology, process and highly skilled people. All vigilantly monitoring your organisation's security status 24x7x365.

Our complete range of Cybersecurity and protection services provides essential security capabilities to specifically meet each organisation's evolving risk appetite and compliance requirements, while still benefitting from economies of scale and flexible consumption models to minimise the need for upfront investment.

We adopt a consulting-led approach, working closely with you to assess risks, define requirements, architect a blended solution, and implement and manage the solution on your behalf. We are perfectly positioned to be a critical component of any organisation's approach to their regulatory and legislative demands, assisting them in managing their security risks flexibly and effectively.
