Cyber-attacks present a significant threat to the UK financial services sector. Recognising this, the Prudential Regulation Authority (PRA) has developed the CQUEST questionnaire for assessing firms' cyber resilience capability. It is likely that the PRA has or will proactively engage with your firm to assess its cyber resilience capability by asking you to carry out a CQUEST questionnaire.

Six Degrees delivers consultancy and managed cyber security services that will enable your firm to enhance its cyber resilience capability and demonstrate to the PRA that it:

- Has a board-approved cyber security strategy
- Identifies and protects its critical assets
- Detects and responds to cyber incidents

Your firm's cyber resilience capability journey doesn't end once you have completed the CQUEST questionnaire. Six Degrees delivers consultancy and managed cyber security services that enable your firm to take the next step, whether you need us to support you on a single project or as a fully-outsourced cyber security partner.

Where does your firm need guidance and support? Wherever you are on your cyber resilience capability journey, Six Degrees' services align to discrete projects, individual or multiple phases, or your entire cyber roadmap:
